Spartan Racing is the student chapter of SAE International at San Jose State University. SAE International (Society of Automotive Engineers, International) is a professional Organization composed of over 138,000 engineers primarily in the automotive and aerospace industries

Baja SAE is a competition in the SAE Collegiate Design Series. The goal is to design, manufacture, test, and race a scale Baja-style buggy, based on regulations and standards similar to those imposed on professional motor sport teams. This exercise immerses students of all backgrounds in an environment that parallels that of a fast-paced engineering work environment.
